Customer Challenge

Blu House Properties, a West Michigan real estate brokerage firm, excels in connecting clients with their ideal residential and commercial properties. They value service and relationship-building. Despite their focus on digital communication, they still handle substantial paperwork for transactions. Owner, Ryan Ogle, was looking for a trustworthy technology partner who shared their ethics and could provide reliable equipment. Additionally, they required a solution for accurate chargebacks across various departments, as their previous method of dividing costs equally was inefficient.

Applied Solutions

Applied conducted a thorough analysis and recommended a new Canon™ color device to meet Blu House Properties’ needs. This solution offered reliable performance and high-quality printing for marketing materials. It included intelligent meter counts, allowing the accounting team to track print and copy usage by department and ensure accurate billing. Over time, Ryan Ogle has appreciated Applied’s expert advice leading to significant cost savings and reduced operational headaches.

The Benefits

- Accurate department-specific billing
- High-quality marketing materials produced in-house
- Time and cost savings
- Enhanced reliability and performance with new equipment
- Simplified print and copy tracking with intelligent meter counts
