Customer Challenge

Conway Township, a rural community in Livingston County, Michigan, faced network reliability challenges that hampered productivity. With staff only working two days a week, any network downtime had a severe impact on their ability to serve the community effectively. Seeking improved and reliable IT support became critical to ensure their operations were uninterrupted.

Applied Solutions

Having an existing relationship with Applied Innovation, Conway Township turned to their technology experts for a comprehensive managed network service package. Applied Innovation implemented a tailored plan, including computer replacements, server upgrades, enhanced network security measures, and a robust disaster recovery plan. With Applied’s responsive support team, any network issues were addressed promptly, ensuring maximum uptime for Conway Township’s staff.
