Customer Challenge

Michigan Head & Neck Institute processed several documents and records daily, with many files requiring fax, scan, print, and distribution options. Their accounting department was searching for an office technology provider that would lower costs, without sacrificing quality.

Applied Solutions

Applied Innovation met with their staff to analyze the current print environment. By taking time to understand the Institute’s needs, Applied was able to define the best solution: upgrade existing equipment to a multifunction printer (MFP). With advanced features that boost productivity and security and the option to lease the device, the Institute was able to lower costs and upgrade capabilities.

The Benefits

- Huge monthly savings and lower overhead
- New MFP with advanced features allows for more scanning and less faxing
- Seamless transition
- Peace of mind due to Applied’s Customer Loyalty Center
